Position available: Allergist

Job Description:

Family Allergy & Asthma, based in Louisville, KY, is seeking allergists for markets across the Midwest and Southern US. We have been in business for 40 years and were co-founded by James Sublett, MD, one of the nation's most respected allergists. We currently have more than 30 allergists serving over 40 offices in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and Tennessee, all focused on providing excellent patient care for our allergy & asthma patients. We are continuing to expand, and seek allergists interested in private practice in our current states, as well as others in these regions. Family Allergy & Asthma will provide all of the resources needed for a successful practice – office management, training, clinical resources, and marketing support. We are a tight-knit group and provide an excellent package, including salary, bonus, benefits, and relocation assistance. If you are interested in growing a successful practice with a dynamic and well-established group, please stop by our booth at the Job Fair!
